SACAIM 2016

he International Conference on Advanced IT, Engineering and Management "SACAIM 2016" was inaugurated on November 10 at 9:15 am in the St Aloysius Institute of Management and Information Technology (AIMIT) auditorium.

The conference was organized in partnership with Santa Clara University, State University of New York, North Dakota State University, Le Moyne College, Fairfield University, and Wilmington University in the U.S., and Mercator School of Management in Germany.

The papers presented at the conference will be published by the International Journal of Latest Trends in Engineering and Technology (IJLTET) indexed by Thomson Reuters.

The Dean of Information Technology at AIMIT, Prof Santhosh Rebello delivered the welcome note with his thoughts on design and system thinking. He observed that IT on its own does not deliver much, it is the application of IT to humanities and applied sciences that is more important and with the concept of smart city in mind, the right application of IT becomes all the more critical.

The chief guest Dr Shreekumar, Registrar, Yenepoya University in his inaugural address brought forward an important aspect of the functioning of the bureaucracy in India and how programs like SACAIM are rightly addressing the issues under the e-governance track. Based on the current bureaucratic process, he said students should think about how to apply IT to develop a new model to reform bureaucracy. Even though technology has rapidly become mainstream driving mechanism, what we need to focus on, is the right thinking behind the development of this new model of governance.

In his presidential address, Fr Denzil Lobo SJ, Director of AIMIT, mentioned why we should reflect on the reality of non-existence of an upper limit to knowledge. He delved into the impact of drastic technological advancement and how that helped derive the largest known prime number, and also in the application of nanotechnology in creating a glass disk with a storage capacity of 360 terabytes of information that can survive for billions of years without damage or data loss. Students he said should transcend the initial rejection and opposition to new ideas and get into the orbit of higher thinking.

In all, a total of 95 papers were presented in the conference during two days in 7 different tracks. Keynote Lectures were delivered by Dr. Rio D'Souza, Dr. Manjaiah

WORKSHOP ON UNFOLDING RESEARCH: NEW QUALITATIVE RESEARCH METHODS AND METHODOLOGIES

workshop was conducted on collaborative unfolding research of Organizational Ethics Culture (OEC) at Tinplate Company of India Limited (TCIL) on Nov. 17, 2016. This unfolding research is a collaborative undertaking by Tata Ethics Research Center at XLRI (hereafter TXLERC) and TCIL on unfolding and understanding the organizational ethics culture of TCTL. Accordingly, this research project is not a consultancy project that identifies, characterizes, formulates and resolves specific problems at TCIL. It is not a TCIL performance appraisal project. It is not an in-company research and training program or management development project customized for TCIL. It is a unique positively oriented project that seeks to unfold, understand and appreciate the tremendous potential of OEC at TCIL that is almost a century old and 75% owned by Tata Steel. Tata companies have a strong ethics culture, some over a century old, that has not been scientifically studied using rigorous modern qualitative and quantitative methods and methodologies. The benefits of such a research are manifold: to the Tata House, to the specific Tata company, TCIL in our case, to XLRI management program and its faculty and students. OEC research project findings can help the corporate and political world, especially in stemming the current fairly unstoppable tide of fraud, corruption, bribery and money laundering.

MANASAMANTHANA - 2016

anasa Manthana 2016- A national level paper presentation competition was organized by MAKARIOS-the Management Club at the Post Graduate Department of Business Administration, AIMIT, St Aloysius College, Beeri on 5th October 2016. Manasamanthana which means churning of the mind is analogous to the mythical churning of the ocean. It involves vigorous tossing and stirring up of new paradigms in the realm of management. Every year significant and current issues are proposed and a platform is given to students to put forth their views. The theme for Manasamanthana 2016 is-Major Lacuna In corporate India - service to less privileged communities.

In the last two decades, there has been increasing dialogue about the role of business in society. Economists had earlier argued that the responsibility of business was to generate profit within the framework of the local regulations conventions. Business met this responsibility by focusing narrowly on shareholder interests. In the process, however, they directly or indirectly contributed to increasingly complex and large-scale social problems (defined as "externalities"). Unsustainable consumption of natural resources, corruption, environmental pollution, inequality and displacement were just some of the consequent challenges that society faced.

Given the scale and complexity of these challenges, governments were unable to address them independently. Business and civil society needed to work with government to find and implement solutions to these problems. This required a new definition of the responsibility of business towards society. If business had to take more responsibility to address social and environmental concerns, a review and change of work-place practices in the entire value chain was required. Managers had to develop new knowledge and skills: for instance, they had to develop more inclusive, long-term goals & strategies and work with multiple stakeholders (some of whom were less organized and powerful than institutional shareholders) to achieve them. They needed to understand the circumstances and concerns of stakeholders hitherto ignored and address these even while achieving business results.

Manasa manthana 2016 aims at brainstorming to devise effective strategies to inculcate such responsible behaviour. This will go a long way in contributing to the goal of an inclusive society.

Ms Prarthana Prateek Kaul, the Chief Guest for the occasion is a cause marketeer, motivational trainer, consultant and co-founder of Gift abled a social enterprise which strives to create an eco system of light minded individuals and collectively build a disabled friendly just and a healthy society. The Guest of Honour for the occasion, Ms Nicole Schulze is the Managing director of International programmes, at Mercator School of Management. Rev. Fr. Denzil Lobo SJ, Director, AIMIT; Dean of MBA Department Dr. Roweena Wright and Faculty Coordinator Ms. Harinakshi along with student coordinators Ms Chryselle Fernandes and Mr. Nitish Moger were present at the occasion.

Ms. Prarthana Prateek Kaul addressed the gathering on the role of volunteering in the life of individuals and corporations. Her detailed narrative about the joys and challenges of working among people with hearing impairity and other like disabilities was truly rivetting. Volunteering, Ms. Kaul maintained, is doing something out of own will without any expectation of returns. On a concluding note she adviced students to actively volunteer, describing how one minute of their time could bring a big change in someone else's life!

The Guest of Honour, Ms. Nicole Schulze, gave a detailed picture of the education system in Germany. She highlighted opportunities for the students for higher education and financial aids that they provide for education. She also spoke about the opportunities for internships in Germany.

The Director of AIMIT Rev. Fr. Denzil Lobo SJ spoke about his experiences at Kalighat Calcutta, a home for the terminally ill run by Mother Teressa where he experienced the satisfaction of volunteering, side by side with volunteers from across the globe. The Director informed the gathering that the annual Rural Exposure Camp at AIMIT gives students an opportunity to serve and volunteer.

JOY OF GIVING (JOG) WEEK - DAAN UTSAV

The Sowing...

It was in one of the business ethics classes that the idea of giving created ripples. Call it coincidence, Mr Felwin, one of our old students who was working for People Gamut brought us the word about Daan Utsav and the Joy of Giving Week. The MBA students of AIMIT, St Aloysius College (Autonomous) wasted no time, and took it up as a mission. Under the guidance of the members of the faculty, the student leaders Mr Abhishek Retrekar and Ms Chryselle Fernandes, sounded the call of service and formed Joy of Giving (JOG) Team of volunteers.

As a fundraiser for Daan Utsay, the JOG Team combined their resources and skills to put up sale of sandwiches, burgers, Chaats, Gulab Jamun, Cold Coffee and mocktails on various days. They invested their time to prepare it by themselves, while generous students contributed wholeheartedly towards the ingredients. The creative hands joined together to prepare bookmarks and auctioned them to art lovers in the campus. The JOG Instagram team put up a studio to help people treasure memories of Daan Utsav. The Smiley team sold the JOG smileys to every kind heart. Otherwise just Management Students, one could see Chefs, Artists, and Photographers emerging from nowhere. The tremors of enthusiasm had gripped the student community to move out into service. The funds raised through various activities were distributed over the weekend on various acts of giving, sharing and caring.

The Harvest...

Visit to Infant Mary School for Orphans & Poor Children, Jeppu, Mangaluru-Oct. 7, 2016

Team JOG kicked off their mission, with the visit to Infant Mary School run by the Sisters of Charity at Jeppu. The School caters to the 115 children, most of whom are orphans and a few other children of construction labourers. The heart warming welcome of the children spiked our spirits high. In our act of sharing our time and gifts with them, every JOG member made sure, they left a smile on every child. A little boy, who clutched the packets of eatables to his heart without eating, left us stunned when we asked why he wouldn't eat it. He said, "I want to give it to my father and mother at home." The team declared him the Hero of the JOG Week by adorning him with the JOG Badge of Honor. On leaving the place, we could not ask for a greater gift than the happiness on the face of those kids as they shook hands and hugged us.

Visit to Bhagini Samaj Shishu Nilaya for girls-Oct. 7, 2016

As only ladies were allowed at Bhagini Samaj, the Lady Team of JOG spent the evening with the Children who were from grade 1-10. They weaved magic to break the unfamiliar shores, as they created ripples of joy in the group. They spoke to the children with regard to their academics and their interests. As one of the volunteer would put it, "We could see their eyes filled with dreams and hope." While the team distributed the gifts and snacks, it was heartening to see how the older ones shared their gifts with the younger ones which was truly the joy of giving and a lesson to learn.

On their way back, the Team distributed snacks to the children of the construction workers, leaving a happy curve on those tiny faces.

Co-workers' Day: An evening with our own helpers at AIMIT, Oct 7, 2016

While two teams of JOG were spreading the Joy of Giving in the City, the third team facilitated the 'Thank You Program' for our co-workers at AIMIT in the MDP Centre. The team took great care to personally escort our gardeners, hostel-caretakers, watchmen, librarians and housekeeping staff who give round the clock to make sure we have our joy. The Team organised fun and entertainment in a warm gesture to create happy memories for our co-workers. We presented each of our helpers at the Campus with a token of gratitude, thanking them for all that they do with a smile on their face. Fr Denzil Lobo SJ, Director, AIMIT lauded the initiative of Team JOG, first of its kind at AIMIT, and bestowed generous appreciation on the special people of the evening. Dr Rowena Wright, Dean - Academics, MBA and Fr Balaraju presented the gifts.

'One Rupee Wonder' drive in Mangaluru City, Oct. 8. 2016

How many times do we really know the count of coins in our wallet or purse? Probably never! Then why are we so reluctant to spare a single rupee for those who really need it. We never regret if we lose a ten rupee note, but then why do we feel so bad if a hungry child asks us to feed him/her outside an eating joint. We need to change our mindset and be considerate toward others. Charity does not mean a single person giving hundreds or thousands of rupees. Hundreds or thousands of people giving just one rupee each can create wonders.

The goal of the 'One Rupee Wonder' drive was to sensitize the general public that it takes just a small act of giving to make a world of difference to someone in need. The full charged Team JOG hit the roads in the heart of Mangaluru, dividing themselves into groups of two/three, going about with a corporate begging bowl as Daan Utsav volunteers, asking people to share a rupee for a cause. Though it was tough to start with, approaching vendors, shop keepers and the general public, the experience turned out to be a corporate learning for life for most of us. Members shared their excitement, frustration and wonder, citing how simple people were rich at heart, and the rich, very poor. As one of the JOG volunteer sighed, "Hereafter, I will respect every Autorickshaw driver!"

An evening with the inmates of Paschim Rehab Centre, Someshwar, Oct 9, 2016

On Sunday, Team JOG set out on their Daan Utsav mission to Paschim Rehab Centre at Someshwar, Mangaluru. The centre caters to senior citizens and differentlyable people with 65 inmates. It took some time for the volunteers to break the ice, as it was a different set up, but not for too long. As every volunteer took initiative to acquaint themselves with two of the inmates each, in no time, we had a family in place. The team sang, danced and ate with them; one could sense the atmosphere of cordial exchanges. The smile and happiness on those grand old faces were our treasured memories.

As one of the JOG member would put it: "When I was there, I realized that being old is not easy. I could actually see the pain and loneliness in each person's eyes. Joy of Giving is not an initiative to collect money for people. Giving is alone not a priority. Spending time is also required. Other shares his experience thus: "I was with a very aged woman who was on bed. She caught our hands very tightly and was talking to us. She was telling us that she is a dead body and she wants to die. We couldn't do anything. We were sitting there and talking to her for a very long time." Acknowledging the service of the caretakers at the Centre, the team presented each caretaker with the JOG Badge of Honor. The visit left unforgettable experiences on the team.

Get-together with the Children of Aloysian Boys Home (ABH), Nehru Nagar, Someshwar, Oct 13, 2016

Thanks to Fr Denzil who invited the Children along with the staff of ABH, Team JOG had another chance to celebrate the Joy of Giving. The Team organised a short get together for the boys, joining them in fun games and dance, lifting their spirits.

Review - Reflection of JOG

The entire JOG team (Department of Business Administration) met on October 14, 2016 to review the initiatives of the JOG Week and reflect on the personal experiences of the joy of giving during the week. Team members stepped forward to share their personal moments of real joy, and how it has given a whole new orientation to making better sense of the world around them. Keeping with the mission of St Aloysius College, creating men and women for others, Team JOG vowed not to stop with the week, but to make it a way of life. As one of the team member exclaimed, "This week made my MBA worthy."

Our special thanks to our radio partner BigFM 92.7 and RJ Errol, for airing our initiative and creating awareness.

"We make a living by what we get; we make a life by what we give"

workshop on New Education Policy was organized by Mangaluru Jesuits Education Society (MJES) for all the heads of institutions and departments of St Aloysius on 28th October 2016 at the High School Hall. The Workshop began with the melodious prayerful rendition by the high school group of students. Fr Praveen Martis SJ, the Secretary of MJES welcomed the gathering and introduced the resource person. Fr Pradeep Sequeira SJ, the Rector-in-charge highlighted the dearth need for a critical look at the draft New Education Policy-2016. Rev. Dr Xavier Alphonse SJ, the resource person for the workshop, impressed upon the participants on the need for reading and deliberating upon the draft document of Education Policy 2016. With his profound understanding of the policy as well as with his experience as an educationist and policy consultant, Fr Xavier SJ, analyzed the loopholes and strengths of the policy and explained the different aspects of the policy. The workshop was spread into two sessions. In the first session a critical evaluation of the policy was suggested by the resource person, Fr Xavier. The second session brought out the challenges, difficulties and lacunae of the New Education Policy through the participants deliberations, classified into smaller groups and dwelling on the distinct themes of the policy. Altogether ten groups dwell on various aspects of policy and suggested policy change. The workshop discussed the dilemma of the two documents one proposed by MHRD and another spearheaded by the Committee member appointed for the task. The workshop generated wide understanding and critical appraisal of the policy and sought direction in the proactive involvement of the educationists in the innovations and making of any Education policy..
